Singer/Songwriter, rising star on social media and part-time primary school music teacher, Miss Angela Bra, invites you to share in her words of wisdom as an international online super sensation in the making.

Essex through and through, Angela is 32 and has been for many years. Living with her cats Pinot and Grigio, she styles herself as the authentic voice of real people, tackling such heady subjects as minimalist cooking (good), crafting (bad) and local board game groups (could go either way.) Linking these, and their effectiveness in establishing her as a global mega-brand, she shares her reasonably priced all-you-can-eat buffet of life stories: the highs, the lows and the ones that only make sense when the punchline comes at the end.

An hour of pop, parodies and puns, it's a shower of silliness in a world all too consumed with what other people think.

Speaking of which...

"A cheerily endearing persona...wordplay is enjoyably convoluted...Crowd pleasing" - Chortle.

"Spontaneous wit and humour" - Buxton Fringe Review

"You won't begrudge the hour spent in her company" - North West End UK

"Hilarious" - Comedy Crowd TV
