

What do sex, politics and pigeons have in common? They're all topics that will be touched upon in Parfait, an hour of standup from two up and coming American women. Charming, witty and a bit odd, Arielle Dundas and Rebecca Kaplan will knock you off guard with their standup.

There are as many layers to a parfait as there are to Arielle and Rebecca's standup. They both happen to be neurodivergent, feminist-focused vegetarian Americans, but they each tackle things in their own way. This is the first performance of this show at Edinburgh Fringe.

Arielle Dundas and Rebecca Kaplan: Parfait will be performed August 4 to 10th at half past midnight (00:30 AM) at City Cafe: Hollywood as part of the Laughing Horse Free Fringe Fest. Tickets are free. More info is available here:
