

Keep It Fringe Fund winner hits the stage at Edinburgh

One of the winners of the Keep It Fringe Fund is back at Edinburgh Fringe this August.

“Sketch Up!” is a hilarious smorgasbord of audio sketches written by Rachel E. Thorn and performed live by professional actors.

The show comes highly recommended by one of the nation’s most famous comedians. Alistair McGowan says, “It’s deliciously witty. Rachel E. Thorn is a brilliant writer.” She’s also one of a handful of winners of the Keep It Fringe Fund, led by Phoebe Waller-Bridge

Thorn has many BBC radio credits, including for Dead Ringers, The Now Show and Breaking The News. She says, “I love writing for audio because it’s the theatre of the mind. And this show is the ideal combination of radio and live comedy. Just perfect for Edinburgh Fringe! It’s also suitable for visually impaired audiences.”

“Sketch Up!” is at Cabaret Voltaire as part of Edinburgh Fringe from 3rd to 19th August at 12:30. Audiences are invited to pay what they can in advance to guarantee a seat, or turn up for free and donate at the end. Tickets are available from:

<https://tickets.edfringe.com/whats-on/sketch-up>

Listings Information

Venue: Cabaret Voltaire

Dates: 3rd-19th August (not 10th)

Time: 12:30

Ticket prices: Pay what you can from £5.

Online box office: <https://tickets.edfringe.com/whats-on/sketch-up>

NOTES FOR EDITORS:

“Sketch Up!” is a collection of radio sketches performed live, written by Rachel E. Thorn and performed by professional actors.

For more details contact Rachel E. Thorn: 07989 758373, rachelethorn@hotmail.com ends/...