BAILEY SWILLEY’S GIMME A SIGN! MAKES ITS 2024 EDFRINGE DEBUT
A storytelling comedy show about family, grief and ghosts

“Captivating and equal parts heartwarming and funny. You will laugh, you will cry and you will leave with a newfound lease on life. 10 out of 10, would see again!”

- Milly Tamarez (Netflix Is a Joke, NPR)

“Brought me to tears faster than watching The Notebook. Bailey had such a unique way of bringing laughter and emotions to such an intense moment in time. I felt safe and comfortable with her on the stage, telling intimate personal stories interlaced with some of the smartest jokes I’ve ever seen—but also a burning desire to hug my parents after the show.”

- Esmond Fountain (The Moth)

New York City-based writer and performer Bailey Swilley brings her one-hour GIMME A SIGN! to the 2024 Edinburgh Festival Fringe at Three Sisters in the Wee Room for a limited run.

GIMME A SIGN! is an autobiographical comedy written and performed by Bailey Swilley, based on the aftermath of her father’s unexpected passing and the strange but funny antics that ensued after. The solo show combines standup and storytelling and explores family dynamics, the stages of grief and the search for ghosts and signs from above. Come for the silly facts about pop culture and celebrities, stay for the surprising path to self-discovery and acceptance.

Bailey has performed earlier iterations of “GIMME A SIGN!” (previously titled “The Pop Culturist’s Guide to Grief”) in New York at the Peoples Improv Theater and The Tank, where it was a recommended pick by The New York Times.

Bailey is a Brooklyn-based writer and performer. She hosts two monthly shows, “We Love a Theme” and “Pretty Women,” both featured in TimeOut New York. Swilley also writes comedy scripts— her Better Things spec was a semifinalist in the 2020 Austin Film Festival.
