

Dutch Courage* is British comedian Rachel Morton-Young's warm-hearted and hilarious love letter to the Netherlands

Raised in a quiet, conservative village in the South of England, Rachel now finds herself embracing a life full of quirks, contradictions, and unexpected joys in one of the most progressive countries on earth. From baffling bra sales techniques and unusual Saints Day traditions to creative sex-ed classes and untranslatable phrases, Dutch Courage is her heartfelt and hilarious attempt to figure out where she fits in.

Rachel's warm and witty take on identity and belonging will strike a chord with anyone who's ever spent time in another country and is perfect for those curious about the land of bikes, bluntness and birthday calendars!

Rachel Morton-Young is an award-winning international comedian, based in Utrecht. She is the founder of Mad Cow Comedy and a driving force in the English-language comedy scene in the Netherlands. She has performed across the UK, Germany, Belgium and Luxembourg and was crowned Best Stand-Up by WorldWideComedyAwards.com in 2021.

Praise for Rachel (audience reviews):

"Delightful, insightful, and hilarious." – Arielle Dundas

"A great show with a lot of laughs. Sharp jokes and great communication with the crowd."
– Egon van der Lee

"Definitely the best show I've seen at the Fringe so far... she is really a great comedian."
– Elana Nicolson

"Rachel slices our culture open with razor-sharp humour. Finally someone brave enough to say why we're so strange." – Geertje Algera
